

Soft Coated Wheaten Terrier Open Registry (updated 11.14.13)

Source of Sires and Dams is the published Records (SCWTCA, AKC, CKC or foreign kennel Clubs) and/or owners. If you bred one of the "missing" sires or dams, send information to Carol Carlson, 21 N. Vintage Rd., Paradise, PA 17562 (e-mail: kccarlson@comcast.net. Review the list for accuracy in reporting for any dogs that you own or bred. Please inform Carol of any errors immediately so that corrections can be made as soon as possible. Mistakes can occur and the committee needs your help to insure the accuracy of information.

Entries in ALL CAPS indicate an affected dog that has produced affected/s. Entries in red are entries that are new or changed since the last list was published 10.28.11. Explanations of abbreviations, definitions and other notations will be found at the end of the list.

EXPLANATION OF CODES USED

The clinical diagnosis of PLE, PLN, IBD, RD, RF, and/or Addison's disease is based on the clinical findings of history, physical examination, familial history, and documentation by blood, urine, and/or histopathology results. Below are the codes used in the Open Registry.

PLE: Protein-losing enteropathy

BI: panhypoproteinemia without evidence of hemorrhage or other causes.

U: absence of proteinuria.

Bx: intestinal lesions characteristic of PLE (e.g., inflammatory bowel disease (IBD), lymphangitis, intestinal lymphangiectasia (IL)).

IBD: Inflammatory bowel disease

Bx: Bx changes as PLE but available bloodwork results are normal

PLN: Protein-losing nephropathy

BI: hypoalbuminemia without hypoglobulinemia, may or may not be azotemic

U: proteinuria by urinalysis or urine protein/creatinine ratio

Bx: abnormal renal histopathology results associated with PLN (e.g., glomerulonephritis, glomerulosclerosis).

PLE/PLN: includes components of both PLE and PLN criteria, i.e., panhypoproteinemia, proteinuria, and histopathologic lesions.

RD: Renal dysplasia, juvenile renal disease

BI: changes of renal failure, but albumin normal

U: decreased urine specific gravity

Bx: abnormal renal histopathology results associated with RD (fetal glomeruli, fetal mesenchyme).

R: (Radiograph or ultrasound) small kidneys at a very young age

RF: Renal failure, incompletely diagnosed, aged 8 years or below

BI: changes of renal failure, but albumin normal

U: decreased urine specific gravity

Bx: abnormal, but not classic for PLN or RD (possibly end-stage kidneys)

Addison's disease:

BI: ACTH stimulation test results, Na/K results

IMHA: immune-mediated hemolytic anemia.

+: this symbol was used for findings which may be incidental, concomitant, or might change results, such as infections, liver disease, urinary tract infection (UTI), etc.

±: this symbol was used for suspects based on information available, but where documentation was felt to be incomplete, for instance, ± PLN:U (the diagnosis of PLN is not made solely by urine test results).

ANA +: anti-nuclear antibody
BM hypoplasia: bone marrow hypoplasia
fAPI: fecal alpha-1 proteinase inhibitor (Fecal API)
GI: gastrointestinal
HSA: hemangiosarcoma

Hx of IBD: history of inflammatory bowel disease
LSA: lymphosarcoma
NSAIDS : non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (which could cause GI ulceration)
RhF (+): Rheumatoid factor

Signalment: Age of dog when test results reached levels that met the criteria to be placed on the OR
UTI: Urinary Tract Infection

Entries in ALL CAPS indicate an affected dog that has produced affected/s.

F: female
FS: spayed female
M: male

Mc: castrated male
NA: not available
LM: Litter Mate

Sib: Full Brother or Full sister
